Important Facts.

We collate the following impartant and interesting facts from various sources, but principally, from an address delivered by Gen. Hiram Walbridge before the Common Council of the city of New York:

Over 50,000 ships are owned by the people of the United St. th. There are 30,000 miles of railroad completed in Uncle Sam's dominion, at a cost of $11,000,000,000. 20,000 miles more of railroad are projected. There is in operation 40,000 miles of telegraph line—cost $5,000,000. In 1790 there were 75 post offices; in 180 30,000, and 275,000 miles of post routes. The commerce of the lakes post routes. The commerce of the lakes of post routes. The commerce of the lakes in 1859 employed 12,000 sailing and steam vessels, of 328,000 tonnage, valued at $9,770,000. The scam tonnage in western waters, from 76,000 in 1842, increased to 250,000 in 1860. We exported in 1791, 2,065,000 bushels of grain; 1855, 1,000,000,000—worth $400,000,000. The wheat crop of 1860 was not in existence; in 1860 its grain shipments were between 35 and 40 millions of bushels. The fruit and grain crop of the Mediterwere between 35 and 40 minors of obserts. The fruit and grain crop of the Mediteranean is annually valued at $7,500,000; in 1850 the grape erup of California was valued at $8,000,000. California, up to 1860, had shipped to the States $600,000,000 in precious the United States, 3,250,000 of square miles The assessed value of all the property in the. United States is $16,000,000,000, yielding an Catted States is $16,000,000,000, yielding an annual profit of five or six hundred millions, yet the dismal creakers are alarmed at the neur approach of Uncle Sam's bankruptcy.

There are 1,159,000 farms and plantations in the United States; dwellings 4,340,000,—$4,500,000,000, and 50,000 churches. The 54,500,000,000, and 50,000 churches. The increase in the population of the Union has been, since 1790, four times greater than Russia; six times greater than Great Britain; nine times greater than Austria, and ten times greater than France. JAW BREAKERS .- There are some hard names in Australia; take for instance the following lines from a poem recently pub-shed: Farewell! Tartengower: and wild Kooringwah! Farewell! Wagra Baijarg! and Irraawarraa! Fartwell! Burra Burra! Folliah! Morand! Farewell! Burra Burra! Folliah! Morand! Farewell! Merrimingo! and thee, Burnewang! And thee, Booroondara! and Goomalibee! Farewell! Narab Narab! and Hinnomongee! Farewell! Tilivong! Tarrawing! Nangelah! And thee, Nooroog of Tanyambalanga!

And thee, Noorong of Tangambalanga!

At a wedding, recently, when the officiating priest put to the lady the question, "Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" she dropped the prettiest curtesy and with a modesty which lent her beauty an additional grace, replied, "If you please."

The pompous spithet of a close fisted citizen closed with the following passage of Scripture: He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord.

"Dat may be so," soliloquised Samlo "but when dat man dies de Lord didn't owe him a red cent."

'Ma," said a little girl the other day, who had scarcely entered her teens, "ma, maint I get married?"
"Why, child, "said the anxious mother, "what upon earth put that notion in your head."

"'Cause all the other girls are getting married as fast as they can, and I want to,

"Well you must not think of such a thing;

don't you ever ask me such a question again.
Married, indeed! I never heard the like."
"Well, ma, if I can't have a husband
maint I have a piece of bread and butter."

"Well, Ann, have you consented to be the wife of Mr. White?"
"No, Sally, I didn't quite consent."
"Why not? I think he loves you."
"Yes, but he didn't pile up the agony high enough. When I give my hand to a wover, I want him to call upon the gods to witness his deep devotion to me. I want him to kneel at my feet, take one of my hands between both of his, and, with a look that would melt an adamantine rock to pity, beg me to take pity on his sufferings; and then I me to take pity on his sufferings; and then

An Irishman being a little befuddled, was asked what was his religious belief. "Is i me belafe ye're asking about? It's the same as the wildy Brady's. I owe her twelve shillins for whiskey, and she belaves 1'll never pay her—and faith that's my belafe, too!"

The Governor's Speech.

Speeches from the throne seldom earn the reputation of being very brilliant productions in the way either of composition or matter. Dealing in generalities, marked more by platitudes than points, they commonly present nothing more worthy of comment than their emptiness. In some of these respects, they resemble the verbal fencing so characteristic of diplomatic correspondence. Non-commitalism, if we might coin a word for the occasion, is the policy which prescribes their form and contents. We cannot say that the speech of Her Majesty's representative departs a great deal from the model presented by it parent at home. Like that it almost merits the paradoxical character of being short enough to be pithy, but dull enough to be long. Th application, however, of some of the stereotyped phrases which obtain in such productions to the members of our Legislature, or a least to some of them, seems rather satirical than otherwise. Pleasing it may be to those to whom they were addressed to imagine they deserved such language. The public, we are of opinion, will not fail to take them for what they are worth. The "anxious and careful attention" with which they applied themselves to the discharge of their duties, did not prevent nearly a whole week at a time passing without a quorum in the at a time passing without a quorum in the House of Assembly, and has not had the effect of securing for the country a number of this day dissolved by mutual connects. important measures that were very much needed. But we suppose we must set the expression down as signifying nothing, and intended for nothing but to tickle the organ of approbativeness of some of the honorable Law in British Columbia.

We cannot say that we envy the position of the people in British Columbia, more ospecially, in relation to the judiciary. Scarcely a steamer has come down from the Frase for the last couple of weeks that has not brought news of contention between the Chief Justice and those who have had to do with him. At one time it is a poor editor, who TURKEYS! TURKEYS!! TURKEYS!!! has had the boidness to open his columns to communications affecting the judicial char noter of the Judge, who is made a victim to his efforts to serve the public. Again, it is those of the legal profession who bear themselves with a little to high a head for the notions of the Bench-who are more anxious to serve their client's cause than be obedient to judge's whims.

People will talk of these matters—and the are right in doing so. It is an important thing, that there should be no room for finding fault with one occupying so high a position as the Chief Justice of any country In vain may it be provided with good laws if they must be interpreted and applied b an officer who merits not the confidence of the people. The tribunals of justice must be like Casar's wife-above suspicion. If therefore, the British Columbians have good grounds for dissatisfaction with the manner in which the laws are administered in the highest tribunal of the Colony, they should not stop at mere out-cry. If any of the offi cers of justice have done wrong, let th charges be specified and their removal demanded There is no reason whatever, why they should have any man foisted upon them who is incapable or corrupt. With a revenue such as their's and there should be no lack of compe tent and honest men to administer the laws Instead of one Judge of the Supreme Court there might be three. It is a miserable state of things which permits the Bench to be composed of only one man. There never can be satisfaction given under such circumstances There is little or no check upon the actions of one judge, when he is the highest and only one in the country. He may be secretly cor rupt or manifestly incapable, in either case he may inflict more injury on the community than fifty times the cost of his salary. But again he may be quite houest and with a good share of ability and have every desire to de what is right between man and man, and still he may be mistaken in his views and through those mistaken views give a wrong decision. Where then is the remedy, when the Court of Appeal is so far away as England, and cannot be put in motion except when the sum is pretty large? By the union of the two colo nies and the appointment of another judge in British Columbia-one for the Alexandri district, for instance-there would be three judges between the two colonies who might sit as an Appeal Court at certain periods c the year. Causes might thus be appealed from both colonies. Small room would then be left for any single judge to perpetrate ic-

Another point which strikes one most forcibly in observing the legal proceedings both in this Island and in British Columbia during the last few weeks, is the fact of the great inconvenience that exists from the limited circle of professional men, from which to choose. From the absence of the Bar of this Colony at New Westminster our own Assizes had to be postponed. If there had been any number of practitioners in the other Colony, such a thing would not be so apt to occur. There would then be more room for choice. But as it is, there are, we believe, only three A BEAUTIFUL AND STERLING PLAY. practicing barristers in the Colony. One of them, Attorney General Cary, is the ssrvant of the Government, and in many cases may be put out of the question, leaving but the other two to choose from. Here is a pretty state of things. The practice of the profession con-fined exclusively to a few individuals. Suppose all or half these men were fools or rogues. A man might still be obliged by circumstances to make use of them. Yet still, in the face of the great dearth of counsel Judge Begbie has so little regard for public convenience as to exclude barristers from the colonies from practising in his court. We do not wender that such grosely unfair conduct should reap its proper reward in the manner in which report mixes the Judge's name with that of a favorite barrister. Illiberality, no matter in what it may exist, will sooner or later be a scorpion's sting to its possessor.

There is no reform more called for than in the rules regulating the admission of legal practitioners; and the people of British Columbia would do well to insist upon it most strenu

THE GOVERNOR'S SPEECH. Honorable Gentlemen of the Legislative Courcil, and of the Legislative Assembly:

In closing this session of the Legislature, affords me great pleasure to convey to you my warmest acknowledgements for the aux-ious and careful attention with which you ious and careful attention with which you have applied yourselves to the discharge of your public duties: and I may add, that the result of your deliberations cannot fail to be satisfactory to the people of the Colony.

The moneys which you have granted for the Public Works are now being faid out in improving the main roads leading into the settled districts about Victoria, and in forming ned districts about Victoria, and in forming a roadway through Cowichan and Nanaimo to the Comax settlement, for the purpose of connecting those districts by a practicable overland communication with cach other, and with Victoria Measures are also in progress for improving the harbor of Victoria—a work which has been unavoidably delayed by financial arrangements.

Grattemen of the Legislative Assembly—
I thank you for the supplies which you granted for the service of the year, and for the purpose of carrying into effect the several objects of public utility which were set forth objects of public ut.lity which were set forth in the estimates.

Honorable gentlemen of the Legislative Council and of the Legislative Assembly—

Thave to congratulate you on the thriving state of trade, the increase of population, the growing value of fixed property, the large demand for agricultural produce, the state of the public revenue, and on the generally satisfactory condition of the Colony, which, I trust will, with the blessing of God. continue to present to prosper.
I now prorogue this Parliament until Fri-

Mr. Searby moved that the same shall be laid over until a select committee be appointed to examine the specifications for the work and have reported thereon.

Mr. Searby said he had suggested at the last neating that it was necessary the specific last meeting that it was necessary the specifi-cations should be looked to. He had since cations should be looked to. He had since then heard many persons express their opinion that the work might be done much less expensively. No particular instructions as to the amount of money the Council were prepared to lay out had been given to the City Surveyor. There was no doubt that the plans he had designed were excellent.

Hicks seconded. He had observed Mr. Hicks seconded. He had observed that according to the specifications, 50,000 feet of earth would have to be excavated upon Yates street alone. This would take a great som of money. Perhaps if the select committee were appointed, they might decide on the work being done in a manner that would re-

Copland denounced the advertisement for tenders as being of a most unusual character. He observed no mention of provisions binding the contractor to keep the road constructed in good repair for six months after its completion, as was customary in such notices. Some Councillors considered that it tices. Some Councillors considered that it would do to introduce such a provision in the contract, but he was of opinion such should be intimated in the advertisement. The Council would get into a worse mess in this affair than they did about the late tenders for the city printing.

Mr. Lewis objected to further delay; when Mr. Lewis objected to further delay; when the tenders which had been called for were about to be laid before the Council they were going to consider the specifications. The time was almost gone by when the improvement so much desired would be of use. The

Four of the tenders, which had been opened by the Mayor before Mr. Scarby's resolution was proposed, were directed to be sealed until action should be taken upon the matter. Mr. Lewis here re-entered and took his seat. COMMUNICATIONS.

A communication was read from the Secre-

A request from the Secretary for permission from the Council for the Gas Company to take up certain portions of several streets for the purpose of conducting service pipes from the mains to the houses was read;—granted.

Mr. Copland, according to notice, introduced a supplementary by-law prohibiting distance is quite as short as from Fort James

The Mayer said he had been speaking to Mr. Pemberton on the subject, and that gentleman had expressed his opinion of the illest gality of driving the Indians from the town. It had also declined to deal pay more with the removal of cases of small—pox, as sanitary regulations devolved upan the City Council. He (the Mayor) had been compelled to send the Inspector that day to order the removal of the body of an indian who had died under a visitation of the epidemic. visitation of the epidemic.

Mr. Scarby had serious misgivings as to the Council interfering in any way with the liberty of the subject.

Mr. Hicks agreed with him, remarking that the Council must adopt a broad measure.
It prostitution were to be the grounds of

On motion of Mr. Copland the by-law was

On motion of Mr. Copiand the by-aw was then referred to the standing committee.

Mr. Copiand next moved the following:

Resolved, that squaw dance-houses within the city limits be considered a nuisance, and that persons keeping the same be amenable to the penalties affixed by the Ordinance on Nuisance and Referred, on the motion of Mr. Stronach, to he Committee on By-Laws. STOVE PIPES.

Mr. Stronach, in accordance with notice daly given, moved an amendment to the by-laws passed by the Council for the prevention of fire. The amendment was to the effect that any and all stove-pipes passing through the wall, ceining, or roof of any buildny, shall be removed by the occupant under penalty of £10 for violation of such law.

The officers of the Corporation, viz.: the Clerk, Surveyor, Inspector and Assessor, were sworn in by the Mayor. The result of the poll held on Saturday last was declared to be 72 pro and 5 contra for the proposed measure for obtaining a Municipal loan. The committee appointed to draw up the bonds of the Town Clerk reported that one

The Council then adjourned until Monday reaches. next.

Journey from Fort Dunvegan, Peace River, through the Rocky Mountains to Victoria. Mr. George Simpson, who has been in charge for two years and a-half of Fort Dunvegan, on Peace River, about 160 miles east of the Rocky Mountains, arrived in this city by the Enterprise on her last trip. He left Fort Dunvegan at the end of September. Dunvegan is a stockade fort, inside of which is Dunvegan is a stockade for, inside of which is a store-house, a house for the gentleman is charge of the fort, and another house for the ten men generally kept there. It was formerly a very important post. The company

He defence; but as each witness was alternately cross-examined by Mr. Copland and Mr. Smith several times, the proceedings were alternated to long to admit of our furnishing a detailed report.

His Worship reserved his judgment until keep about 50 horses, and 15 head of he cattle there. Potatoes, turnips, and other regetables, with barley, mature and produce well. It is an open prairie country, on elevated table land, stretching from Duvegan up to the Rocky Mountains. Pence River, up to the Rocky Mountains. Peace River, proper, only commences in and east of the Rocky Mountains. West of the mountains the main branch is called Findlay's Branch, which forms a junction at the west face of the Rocky Mountains with Parsnip River, that takes its rise in McLeod's Lake. From below takes its rise in McLood's Lake. From below Dunvegan there had been no tidings of gold discoveries, nor from Smoky River, which rises in the south towards Jasper House and falls into Pacee River at Dunvegan. The latter river is there as broad and deep as the Fraser at Alexandria. Mr. Simpson left Dunvegan in a keeled Mr. Simpson lett Danvegan in a keeled boat with seven men, and ascended the river three days journey, or about 100 miles, to Fort St. John, formerly called Fort de Pinette. There are a few rapids in this distance, but they are not difficult to pass. The banks of the river are high, but not mountainous. On the south side there is a belt of woodland between the piper and on country. On the the south side there is a best of woodland be-tween the river and o, en country. On the north side it is open prairie land. Fort St. Johns is built on the south side of the fiver, but it was to be removed this fall to the north side. Just below the fort a large tributary falls into Peace River. At that point are the ruins of a deserted fort, called Old Fort de Pinette. There is another deserted post half way be-tween the latter and Fort St. John's. There tween the latter and Fort St. John's. There are six men with Mr. Bournas at Fort St. Johns. The gentleman in charge is Postmaster, which is a grade in the company's service between an interpreter and a clerk. A pretty good fur business is done there. In fact all the posts of Peace River do well. From St. John's Mr. Simpson went to the Rocky Mountain Portage, a distance of about 60 miles. The only thing remarkable on this part of the river is that the mountains are higher, and the stream more rapid. No miners had ever been down to Dunvegan; but two men, Cary and Toy, had descended to Fort St. John's in July, and had found the two men, Cary and Toy, had descended to Fort St. Johns, in July, and had found the color of gold all the way down. They got a few supplies, such as shoes, etc., at the fort. The steady Parks from Fort St. Johns and the parks from Fort St. Johns and the Parks from Fort St. Johns and the Parks from Fort St. Johns and Classification of criminals,

At the Portage the party sent back the boat to St. John and then footed it, packing the "pieces" (the supplies) across—a distance of twelve miles. It is a very good trail, a little hilly, and took the party six days to pack across it. There they took a boat, which had been brought down from Fort McLeod on McMcLeod's Lake. From the Portage to the Earls or injection of Patrain riversare to the Earls or injection of Patrain riversare. Mr. Copland insisted; Mr. Lewis appealed to the rules of order, and when he found the Mayor resolved upon hearing Mr. Copland, rose from his seat, and quitted the room.

Mr. Copland then proceeded.
Mr. Hicks said he had seen for a long while how money might be saved by constructing a road from the apper end of Fort street towards the Springs, instead of grading Yates street, but had not mentioned it seeing that the Council were resolved upon improving the latter. He favored the proposition of referring the specifications to a committee.

Mr. Stronach considered the matter should be settled without delay. Nothing could have been more straightforward than the advertisement. He believed it contained all that was necessary. If a committee took the specifications under consideration, whose opinion were they to take in preference to opinion were they to take in preference to that of their own employe?

Capt. Reid believed that whatever work was to be done for the Council should be well done, and not require to be done over again. He considered it would be a good plan to bind the contractors to keep the street in repair for 12 months, and then the work would surely be well done.

Mr. Scarby rose to speak, but Capt. Reid objected, saying that he had already spoken more than once.

The Mayor did not interfere; so Capt. Reid remarking that as the Rules of Order were not adhered to, he should retire from the room, took his hat and retired.

Mr. Scarby denied any intention of expressing want of confidence in the Circ.

Peace river breaks through that range. It is good boating up Parsnip river, chiefly rowing and haeling the line. The destance from Fort McLeod to the Findlay branch via Parsnip river is roughly put down at 100 miles. The river passes through a level gountry, thickly wooded with pine, birch, and poplar. About half-way be seen Fort McLeod and the Findlay Tribe or Nation, the river falls into the Parsnip. It is a large stream. Gold is reported upon it, but no great quantity has yet been obtained. Gold has been found all along on the bars of the Parsnip, and in paying quantities: but it

From Fort James, Mr. Simpson came, down Stuart's River in live days in a canoe to Fort George, where it empties into the Fraser. The country along Stuart's River is pretty level. Fort George is one square log-house, with Chief Trader Charles in charge, assisted by one man in winter. There is no wood near it. There were four color d men, names nuknown, who were going on to Peace River, but were forced to winter at Fort George, owing to the ice in the river. Mr. Simpson left Fort George about November 25th, and came down to Alexandria in six days, and from there by land to Victoria via the Lillooet route. There was about five inches of snow at Fort McLeod on October 20th, and the same depth at Fort James. At Fort George there was about the same depth of snow, and very cold. BEFORE THE STIPENDIARY MAGISTRATE. A man named Peter Albins, was charged with stealing twenty five pairs of boots and $51 in each from a store keeper. He was remanded for one day.

James Scott, arrested by special constable Shapard for being drunk and disorderly, was further charged with attempting to cut the officer with a knife. The prisoner was sontenced to a fine of 40s.

A man arrested by Mr. Levi, night watchman, for being a suspicious character, proveling about et an untimely hour, and refusing to render an account of himself, was dis charged.

NEW WESTMINSTER -The G. and Jury, in their report to the Judge at the late Assizes held at New Westminster, called his atten tion to the over-crowded state of the jail and the want of ventilation in the cells occupied by the prisoners. This is not the first time complaints have been made about the in adequate accommodation afforded by the present building, and one would have imagined that such an important subject would have commanded the immediate attention of have commanded the immediate attention of the authorities, and improvements been forth-with commenced to meet the necessities of the case. But it appears that the procrastinating habit which is so characteristic of the Gov-ernment of these colonies still stands in the ment so much desired would be of use. The Council had knowingly elected the professional man whom they thought would prove the most efficient City Streyor, and they had no reason now to question his ability. They ought not to set aside the acts of the gentleman whom they had elected.

GRAND "POTLATCH,"--The Indians of Hood's Canal received, last week, their annual potlatch from the U. S. Government. The number of recipients, (according to the conens which it was found necessary to take owing to the suspected presence of several Indians who had no claim on the authorities) was 1050. Several thousand dollars' worth of blankets, shawls, and various other tklas, of blankets, shawls, and various other that, dear to the Siwash heart, were dispensed and hiyou muck a-nuck, in the shape of bread beef, molasses, etc., was also served out during the affair, which lasted a whole week. The Shubrick was in attendance to preserve order, and also the protect the Indians from being robbed, as it was rumored that a party from a hostile tribe intended to wayay them. on their return from the pollatch; fortunately however, this was not attempted. INQUEST .-- An inquest was held at the Boomerang Hotel, in this city, yesterday, before James Dixon, Esq., M. D., Coroner and a most respectable jury, on the body of the late Peter Joseph Schl, who unfortunately came to Peter Joseph Schl, who unfortunately came to his death on Saturday morning last, by the discharge of his own gun while returning from a shooting excursion at Sooke. The jury viewed the body and afterwards head the evidence of deceased's brother, Frank Schl, and George Mori, the friend who was stopping with him at the time of the melancholly occurrence, and returned a verdict that deceased met his death by the "effect of a gunshot wound in the left side of the body; but how it happened there was no evidence to show." VICTORIA THEATRE. - The playing last evening was very good indeed, Miss Mitchell appearing to great advantage as Judith, in the drama of "Judith of Geneva." She was well lins been found all along on the bars of the Parsnip, and in paying quantities; but it had been deserted to go to the richer diggings on the Findlay branch.

McLeod's Lake is very long, probably 40 miles, running north and south. At the southern end a small stream falls into it. There is a route to reach Fort McLeod which is shorter than via Fort James. By starting from Fort George, up the main branch of the Fraser about a day's walk, a portage is peached, over when the Indian and Hudson bay Company people travel to a chain of little lakes which lead to McLeod Lake. This portage is very short, not near a day's jour-Valler. the above celebrated case. The original suit commenced by G. B. Wright & Co. arresting Messrs, L. and J. Cranford at Lillooett. for a debt of $8,500, which was due for packing goods from Douglas to Lillocett. On this judment was obtained for the full amount and about $1,000 costs. On this judgment the goods of the Cranfords at Lilloett were seized and sold for about half the amount. The defendants meanwhile were detained in custody on " writ of capias," and commenced a cross-suit for 25,000 damages for delays on cross-aut for 2,000 datanges for early on goods, costing originally only about $10,000, and the whole freight on which only amounted to about $8 000. Since the close of this latter suit, the Cranfords have been rearlatter suit, the Cranfords have been rearrested on a writ of "ea sa," and are now in jail at New Westminster. A compromise was effected between the parties, by which all matters were definitely settled, except the delays on goods. The feeling excited in New Westminster, rendered it almost an impossibility to get the ease tried the.e as it impossibility to get the case tried the.e as it ought to be. Considerable of sectional feeling prevailed. We understand that it is very improbable that the case will ever be tried again, as the Cranfords have filed their petition in bankruptey, and if released will be unable thereafter to present their claim. We shall shortly publish a repart of this trial, which has excited such great interest both here and at New Westminster.

Douglas - Much dissatisfaction exists about the postal arrangements in this town, and a strong remedy should be immediately applied to make a sweeping reform in the arrival, delivery, and despatch of the mails. At present the office of Postmaster is filled by one of the police force who, in attending to the office must, of necessity, neglect his other duties, and vice versa. Douglas is rapidly becoming a first class commercial town, and the want of a proper postal accommodation is felt as a great draw-back to its success. We trust the Government will at once appoint an efficient Postmaster, who will see to the public interests, and have the mails accelerated so that no cause of complaint may exist hereofter. exist hereafter.

TWO UNPLEASANT INCIDENTS -- Some men sere yesterday engaged in throwing some pieces of wood, that had been used in the stowage of her cargo, from the deck of the ship Rosedale upon the wharf, when a rather heavy log struck a well known boatman, who neavy log struck a well known boatman, who was passing, on the head, cutting it open. The parties were separated by a policeman and the bystanders, each vowing vengeance upon the other for assaulting him without provocation.

FROM BARCLAY SOUND .- The schooner Alberni, Capt. Henderson, arrived from the Alberni mills yesterday afternoon, with 110, 000 feet of lumber. The Alberni was de tained at the mouth of Barclay Sound two days by strong easterly gales; sailed on Thursday—saw the schooner Codfish entering Thursday-saw the schooner Codfish entering the Sound, and had experienced strong easterly winds all the passage. A ROAD TO SOOKE .- Messrs. Adam and Hugh Weir were engaged last week, under the authority of the Surveyor General, in a survey of the country between Metchosin and Sooke, with a view to the selection of the most desirable route for the proposed road. These explorations have proved highly satisfactory, and they report that they have blazed a line of read that will be of nearly uniform rade, and that it is unusually free from en Tuy Post Oppice -- We think additiona hands should be employed on the arrival of the mail here, to assist in sorting and delivthe mail here, to assist in sorting and delivering letters and papers. The length of time people are kept waiting on the street like flocks of wild geese is certainly very annoying, and reflects the deepest disgrace upon the Government for their apathy and indifference to the public welfare. The present staff of officials at the Post office are very efficient but altogether inadequate to perform the duty required of them on steamer day.

The schooner Hannah arrived from Cowiohan and Saanich yesterday morning with 1000 bushels of barley, outs, turnips and carrots, and 52,000 shingles, Off Salt Spring Island the Hannah struck on a rock and re mained fast, the ebb tide leaving her suspended 8 or 10 feet above the water. She re ceived some injury by the great strain thrown upon her.

THE SHUBBICK .- The U. S. Revenue cutter Shubrick, Lieut. Com. Selden, arrived in port on Sunday evening from Port Angelos. She had been at Hood's Canal for several days, going thence to Olympia, and returning to Port Angelos before coming here. She brought no late news from any quarter, and returned to Port Angelos yesterday at 12 o'clock, n.

FRUIT TREES .- We were shown yesterday, by a gentleman who resides in this city, a quantity of the ova of the caterpiller which was so destructive to fruit trees in this vicinity last season. They were found attached to the branches, and were quite easily re-moved by the hand. Parties owning fruit trees will do well to take the hint, and thus in a great measure prevent a recurrence of similar ravages next summer. Collector Smith .- This gentleman has been unexpectedly ordered to repair to Washington immediately, from San Francisco. The Shabrick had orders to be here on the 21st inst, to meet him, but on arriving received by the Sierra Nevada the above intelligence. Sir-l am directed to state to you, for the information of the Manchester Cotton Supply Association, that his lordship has received a report from the United States to the following acfrect—namely: That at the commencement of the civil war the whole amount of cotton in the South was about 4,260,000 bales -that about 1.000,000 bales been destroyed. and that another million will have been in and that another million will have been frea-parably injured from not having been properly ginned, baled and stored; and that, conse-quently, when allowance is made for the small portion which, by one means or other, has found its way into market, the quantity that would be forthcoming if the ports were to be opened immediately would not exceed 2.000,000.

be opened immediately would not exceed 2,000,000.

As regards the crop of 1862, which is not yet picked, it is not estimated at more than 1,000,000 bales, and even this small amount will be so reduced, from the difficulty of obtaining labor for picking and hemp and other necessary materials for baling and storing, that the supply for the market will be trifling. As regards hemp, however, it appears that a good deal is to be obtained from the Blue Grass region of Kentucky. It is stated that if the war should continue, the land in 1863 will be cultivated for corn and not for cotton, and that under any circumstances it would and that under any circumstances it would take the cultivators of cotton some time to recover from the state of disorganization into which that cultivation has been throws.

I am, Sir,
Your most oldt., humble Serv't,
G. Hammond.

THE OBLECT OF THIS COMPANY IS to establish Railway communication between Victoria and Esquimalt, and thereby to provide for passengers and goods a more speedly and easy mode of transit than that which now exists.

This end attained, the delay and expense now necessarily attending ressels of large lonnage, bound for Victorie, but compelled to discharge their cargons at Equimalt, will at once be obviated.

Equimalt, naturally the commercial povery respect, the same position which Sandridge does to Methourne, or Grennock to disagon.

Its marked adaptability as the present terminus for Ocean Stean ships (everal of which connect monthly with San Francisco); the certainty of its being the future terminus of the line of Steamers between this port and Panama; its commanding importance as Itr Majesty's p inicipal Navai Station on the Pacilic, when taken in connection with its deep and capacious harbor, easy of access at fill times, and admirably sheltered, cannot tail to give draigly extending.

The Railway will be built in an inexpensive maner, a due regard, however, being paid to durability and completeness.
